

Fall Roofing Checklist

Fall is the time to begin prepping your roof for the harsh winter weather. Here is a checklist to follow to make sure your roof is up to the task of protecting your home.

☐

Clean Out Your Gutters

Your gutters take rainwater and melted snow and ice and channel it away from your home. If they are clogged with debris, water can back up onto your roof and freeze, causing ice dams.

☐

Check Out Your Attic

Take a peak in your attic! Look for signs of leaks, water stains, and mold. These issues are better taken care of now than in the dead of winter.

☐

Trim Low-Hanging Branches

During winter storms, snow and ice build up on tree branches can cause them to snap or damage your roof.

☐

Check Your Roofline

Roof lines should be straight. Inspect your roof to check for signs of dipping, curving, or sagging.

☐

Replace Old, Worn, or Broken Shingles

It's important to do a quick roof inspection before your roof has to endure the wear and tear of the winter. Check for missing shingles, leaks, or general roof damage that will need to be repaired.

☐

Schedule Roof Inspection

It's important to do a quick roof inspection before your roof has to endure the wear and tear of the winter. Check for missing shingles, leaks, or general roof damage that will need to be repaired.